

Project Delivery Terms

Effective Date: June 26, 2025

Last Reviewed: June 26, 2025

1. Scope of Deliverables

Laius Group (“we,” “our,” or “the Company”) will deliver project outputs as agreed upon in the service contract. Deliverables may include, but are not limited to, graphic design, website design, marketing materials, and related digital assets.

2. Timelines

We commit to delivering the project within the timeframe specified in the agreement. While we strive to meet deadlines, unforeseen circumstances may cause delays, in which case we will notify the client promptly.

3. Revisions

Upon initial project delivery, clients are entitled to a limited number of minor revisions at no additional cost. Minor revisions are defined as small adjustments that do not fundamentally alter the scope or design concept. Additional or major revisions beyond this scope will incur extra fees, which will be communicated and agreed upon before work proceeds.

4. Acceptance Criteria

Clients are expected to review and approve deliverables within a reasonable timeframe. Acceptance is confirmed when the client provides written confirmation or fails to respond within 7 days. Upon acceptance, the project will be considered complete.

5. Additional Work

Requests for new features, designs, or substantial changes after project acceptance will be treated as new projects or change orders and billed accordingly.

6. Payment Terms

Payments for project work are due as per the agreed schedule in the contract. Outstanding payments may delay project delivery or revisions.
